Description

In the heart of Tarquinia's historic center, amidst charming streets steeped in centuries of history, lies a rare and precious opportunity: a charming apartment with a panoramic terrace, nestled within the noble Palazzo Vipereschi.

A building that preserves ancient memories, dating back to the years of the pontificate of Pius V, where even today one can breathe the elegance of a distant era.

The apartment, located on the second and top floor, welcomes its guests through an external gallery that leads directly into the living room, the beating heart of the home. From here, the various rooms branch off: the kitchenette, the master bedroom, a charming bedroom with a touch of yesteryear, and the bathroom. Every detail speaks to the palace's nobility: original floors, fine marble, and generous light filtering through the windows.

But the real star of the show is the 26-square-meter terrace, a rare privilege in the historic center, where time seems to stand still. This exclusive space offers breathtaking views of the medieval rooftops and the sea on the horizon, perfect for leisurely breakfasts, starlit dinners, and moments of pure beauty.

Bright, airy, and well-exposed, this apartment is the ideal choice for those seeking a unique pied-à-terre, combining history, comfort, and an unparalleled view.

An invitation to experience Tarquinia from above, between sky and sea, in a setting steeped in history and authenticity.
